Planning Board hears concerns regarding proposed gas station

By KRISTA BRESNAHAN

WILMINGTON — Many residents came to Tuesday night's Planning Board meeting to hear the site plan review for the proposed Global Gas Station that would be located by the intersection of Lowell Street and West Street.

Phase one of the proposed project would include a gas station with 10 pumps, eight of which would have just the three grades of gasoline and two of which would be "three and one pumps" with the extra offering being diesel fuel, as well as a convenience store with a café style limited service restaurant with both indoor and outdoor seating.

A tenant has not yet been secured for phase two of the project so the use is not yet known, but it has been noted by Michael Newhouse who was a representative of Global at the meeting, that it would not be a truck stop or a fast food restaurant, but that there are a myriad of things that it could be such as a sit-down, family-style, eat-in restaurant, a professional office building, a bank, a pharmacy, some sort of a medical related use, or a number of other things.

After hearing what Global representatives had to say, Robin Anderson was the first resident to speak.

"You mentioned Mobile On The Run, Subway, assisted living, but you didn't mention the daycare, you didn't mention us, the people who live on the street that it is going to affect tremendously," she said. "We're going to see that all night long just

Paving work park of larger Route 38 plan

TEWKSBURY — Construction delays and road closures on Route 38 into Wilmington are just the beginning of a major roadway renovation that will finally address the conditions along the state highway in Tewksbury.

For years, residents have complained about the appearance of Route 38, the main thoroughfare in town. However, most are unaware that it is a Massachusetts state road, and as such, under the control of the Massachusetts Department of Transportation. The town is not responsible for, nor mandated or funded to maintain, this road despite the complaints of residents.

"Many residents are unaware that Route 38 is a state highway," said Board of Selectman Chair Mark Kratman, noting that he receives numerous complaints.

"The town is unfairly criticized for a road and sidewalks over which it has no jurisdiction," he said.

Selectman Todd Johnson added, "Improvements to Tewksbury's Route 38 was established as one of the board's top priorities a few years ago," and notes the town has not received attention from the state on this matter until quite recently.

Through a request made by Tewksbury's state legislative delegation at the request of the Board of Selectmen, residual MassDOT budget funds that must be spent in 2017 were requested for the specific use of paving the southern end of Route 38 from the Wilmington town line to South Street. According to a letter sent by the office of Senator Barbara L'Italien, the "highly trafficked corridor is commercially significant" and would be an ideal candidate for the monies given that "no design or complex planning" is required. The project would complement other roadwork planned for Route 38 the letter explains.

According to Kratman, the work ties into another project #608346 which is scheduled to begin in FY 2019. The scope of work for that project includes improvements to the intersections of Main Street at South Street, Main Street at Salem Road, and South Street at Salem Road, as well as the roadways between and a few hundred feet beyond each intersection. The improvements include geometric modifications to each intersection, pavement rehabilitation, sidewalks, traffic signals, signs, pavement markings, landscaping, lighting and drainage modifications.

The proposed cross section will include two travel lanes, two sidewalks and dedicated bicycle lanes. The approach

Town prepares for Mass. Memories Road Show

WILMINGTON — Town residents are gathering their thoughts and photos eager to become a part of recorded history. On Sept. 30, the Massachusetts Memories Road Show comes to Wilmington. Sponsored by the library, the Road Show is a free public event. It will be held at the high school.

The Road Show is a statewide history project that documents people, places, and events through family photographs and stories. It is run by UMASS Boston. Any and all residents are invited to the high school on that day to record their own piece of history. Participants bring three photos (hard copy or digital) and record that history for future generations. Whether it is a photo of their home itself or a picture of a family meal or a child's graduation, it is all relevant.

Long time residents Barbara and Paul Carpenter will be there for sure. After reading a previous Town Crier feature about the event, they thought about their 1949 Wilmington High School experience which Barbara captured in a scrap book. The football team won the league championship. "They were undefeated," she said. "I think they only had six points scored against them."

Paul played on the team, and Mary was a cheerleader. The high school sweethearts have been married 65 years. They represent a very special demographic that truly warrants a place in town history.

Free mosquito spraying available for residents

By JESSICA KASPARIAN

WILMINGTON — Free mosquito spraying by Central Mass Mosquito Control Project is available all summer to Wilmington property owners upon request.

CMMCP will assess the property before spraying and educate the owners on how to reduce larval and adult mosquito populations.

Kim Mytych, senior clerk at the Wilmington Heath Department said, "They educate you on how to keep the mosquitoes down: keep your lawn cut, any standing water, still water, anything like that, they go over all of that with you."

CMMCP stresses that understanding how mosquitos reproduce and the environment they thrive in is important to preventing them.

"Educating the public about mosquitos and their biology is an important aspect of the project's program," the website states. "Mosquito activity around the home can be reduced significantly by decreasing the amount of standing water available for larval mosquito habitat."

This means cleaning clogged roof gutters annually, turning over kiddie pools and wheelbarrows, putting fish in any ornamental pools, and drilling holes in the bottoms of recycling bins.

Mytych requests her own property to be sprayed every two weeks and has seen a significant difference this year.

"I use it at my own house and I'm already seeing a

Sons of Italy to host car show in August

By LIZZY HILL

WILMINGTON — Wilmington Sons of Italy is looking for people to show cars at their first car show, to be held on Saturday, Aug. 26 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Fourth of July parking lot. They're working with car enthusiasts in the Dominators Hot Rod Club.

According to Dominators member Jim Gustin, this is their seventh year having a car show in Wilmington in August.

"It's always been held at Sonic, but the Sons of Italy asked us if we'd co-produce a show with them," he explained. "The past two years at Sonic, we've had between 150 and 190 people show cars, and triple that in the number of people walking through."

However, because it's a new location and a new day of the week, he's not estimating a comparative showing this year.

As of now, his guess is about 90 cars shown, but it's too soon to have a real idea.

"It's a Saturday show, so it's really starting all over... we'll see how it goes off," he said.

Gustin has flyers being made before they can be distributed, plus word spreading through the Sons of Italy and other businesses that support the Dominators in their shows lists.

"We have a following, because we've been doing this for a number of years."

The Dominators have been active since 1958, when a few high school kids formed the Domina-

WCTV news and notes

By SHAUN NEVILLE
WCTV Executive Director

When you think about WCTV and community media, most of you likely think of one of our staff members or volunteers carrying a camera to a local event or hosting a show in our studio. But the Fun on the Fourth celebration is a reminder that community media comes from all different types of sources.

Did you see the drone video of the fireworks, courtesy of Tom Berrigan? He was in town on Sunday and ended up capturing some of the most impressive video of the Wilmington fireworks ever recorded.

Also on the common all weekend: Craig Musicant was taking pictures and shooting time lapse video for the Fourth of July Committee.

Both of those videos are now airing as part of our Fourth of July coverage on WCTV's Public Channel (Comcast 9/Verizon 37). Even though they weren't shot or edited on WCTV equipment, these types of videos really show off what community media is all about: people in town sharing video of interest.

We have a couple of "shows" on our air that follow this similar model. Wildlife of Wilmington is shot by Mark Holleran. He uploads wildlife videos to Facebook, then shares with us to compile into highlights.

We also broadcast Airgoz Aerial Photography from Jamie Boudreau. His drone video is stunning and his YouTube page is always being updated with video from across the region. Jamie shares his Wilmington videos on air on WCTV.

I encourage anyone who wants to take video and pictures from across the community to consider whether what they've captured has a wider audience. WCTV is not only here to provide video equipment and training, but also a platform for residents to share what they shoot and help connect us all through media.

New Programs: These air on one of WCTV's 3 television stations (Public: Comcast 9/Verizon 37 - Government: Comcast 22/Verizon 38 - Education: Comcast 99 / Verizon 39). You can also watch them at WCTV.org.

• Fun on the Fourth (WCTV Public): There are a few different shows, from our Night One LIVE program to Family Fun Day and the Final Night, which includes the fireworks finale.

• Book Stew (WCTV Public): Nancy Zimmer of Wilmington's Crafting Closet introduces viewers to a new way to look at a book!

• Concert on the Common (WCTV Public): The first show of the summer concert series, featuring Perfect Crime, is now on the air courtesy of Paul Hipple.

• Flag Retirement Ceremony (WCTV Public): The Wilmington Minutemen held their annual Flag retirement ceremony at Harnden Tavern last month.

• Town Topics (WCTV Government): Are you buying the right fertilizer for your lawn? The town wants to make sure you're getting it correct to save your wallet and the environment.

• School Committee Work-shop (WCTV Government): Get an update on the search for the next Wilmington school superintendent.

Upcoming Live: • Board of Selectmen: July 17 - 7 p.m. (WCTV Government)

Check out WCTV.org for more information on when programs will be televised and how you can get involved at your community television station. Membership is free and there's no time commitment.

REASONS TAXPAYERS SHOULD E-FILE THEIR TAXES — PART II —

• Faster Refunds — In most cases, e-file prevents mistakes and helps people get their refund faster. The quickest way to get a refund is to combine e-file with direct deposit into a bank account. The IRS issues more than nine out of 10 refunds in less than 21 days—however, some returns need further review and take longer.

• Prior-Year Tax Return—Taxpayers should keep a copy of their tax return. Beginning in 2017, taxpayers using a software product for the first time may need their Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) amount from their prior-year tax return to verify their identity. Taxpayers can learn more about how to verify their identity and electronically sign tax returns at Validating Your Electronically Filed Tax Return.

• Health Care Coverage Reporting—IRS e-file can help with tax provisions of the health care law. The software will walk users through each line on the tax form that relates to the Affordable Care Act.

• Payment Options—If taxpayers owe taxes, they can e-file early and set up an automatic payment on any day until the deadline. They can pay electronically from their bank account with IRS Direct Pay. Other payment options include electronic funds withdrawal and payment by debit or credit card. Visit IRS.gov/payments for details.

Two great tackles, but no points

"I got one with four legs"

By LARZ F. NEILSON

Which is worth more points — a two-legged tackle on the two-yard line or a four-legged tackle?

In the fall of 1964, there were two tackles that should have scored some points. But this wasn't football and besides, tackles are not worth any points.

In late November, Officer John Ritchie, off-duty and in his own car, saw a car pull out of the Wilmington Ford lot, where the House of Pizza is now. There was no plate on the car. Ritchie passed the car and looked in the mirror. There was no plate on the front. He motioned to the driver to pull over, but instead the young man made a u-turn and then turned back into the Ford lot.

He drove straight through the lot and unsuccessfully tried to drive over the railroad tracks. With the car stuck on the tracks, he jumped out of the car and headed for a nearby swamp. Ritchie was able to tackle him just before the edge of the swamp.

Had the man reached the swamp, Ritchie would have lost him. He was still in his bedroom slippers. He quipped that he had stopped the man at the two-yard line.

10 days later, there was a deer roaming in North Wilmington. The doe, estimated to weigh a little under 100 pounds, was nearly tame. Members of the Wilmington Highway Department were afraid it would be killed by a speeding car, while attempting to cross Route 62.

Andre LeFave of the Highway Dept. called the State House yesterday and was connected with the Dept. of Fisheries and Game. He told them of the situation, and was told that if the doe could be captured without being harmed, it would be placed in a zoo.

The state immediately sent out a truck with three employees, two of whom were in uniform. They drove to the Highway Dept. building, where they were waiting at the time of the capture, but without having been able to get in touch with Mr. LeFave.

Meanwhile the doe was in the vicinity of North Street, and had become the center of a vast ring of spectators.

Town Manager Gerald Bouchard and Mrs. Bouchard were among those present, watching from their car.

The spectators were trying to cause the deer to corral itself in a garage, off North Street, but it easily jumped a four-foot fence, crossed Carolyn Road, going towards Pineridge Road.

As the spectators closed in, Bob Palmer made a flying tackle. He grabbed the doe by its hind legs and brought it to the ground.

LeFave immediately pounced on the animal's head, and then began to truss up the front legs, not an easy task because of the thrashing of the terrified animal. Palmer sustained an injury to the little finger of his left hand, caused by one of the hoofs.

After the doe had been captured, someone called the police. In a matter of moments, three police cruisers had arrived, with officers Ritchie, Cuoco and Mercier. Right behind them was the Fish and Game Dept. truck.

Very quickly, the doe was dispatched to its new, yet unspecified, home.

As the doe left, Palmer turned to Ritchie and said, "I've got you one better — I got one with four legs!"

Ritchie was then coach of a semi-pro football team, the Nashua Colts. He later became coach of the WHS team.

Palmer at the time was a Highway Dept. employee and a special police officer. He later became highway superintendent, then the Dept. of Public Works superintendent. In retirement, he served on the Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee for 17 years. The selectmen recently recognized him for his many years of service to the town as he stepped down from the firm.

To help those with mental illness $250k in FY18 budget for restoration center

BOSTON — State Senator Barbara L'Italien (D- 2nd Essex & Middlesex District) and Middlesex Sheriff Peter J. Koutoujian announced the Legislature has appropriated $250,000 in the FY2018 budget for the first year of a pilot program to establish a restoration center in Middlesex County.

Senator Ken Donnelly originally sponsored the budget request prior to his passing in April of this year.

The restoration center would provide greater opportunity for law enforcement and the courts to divert those with mental illness and/or substance use disorders away from the criminal justice system prior to arrest or adjudication. The center would help support ongoing law enforcement diversionary efforts in nearly two-dozen Middlesex communities while also expanding the community capacity for treatment.

"I filed this budget amendment, historically supported by my late colleague Senator Ken Donnelly, because mental health and addiction should be treated as a public health issue," said Sen. L'Italien. "Instead of criminalizing the disease of addiction, we must treat the victims of the opioid crisis — which is hitting Middlesex County particularly hard — with rehabilitation and support."

"Last year, 42 percent of those entering our custody required medical detox and 46 percent reported a history of mental illness," said Sheriff Koutoujian. "Our jails and houses of correction have become de facto mental health and addiction treatment facilities. The money for this initiative will help us determine how we can effectively break the cycle of incarceration by diverting more individuals away from incarceration and into treatment."

"Senator Donnelly worked hard to address the needs of those suffering with serious and persistent mental illness and he would be thrilled that the creation of a restoration center has been included in the final budget," said Cindy Friedman, Senator Donnelly's former chief of staff. "This is a giant step in the decriminalization of mental illness and substance use disorder in our state and I am so grateful for the commitment shown by our legislature to address this important issue."

Nationally, the Roberto L. Jimenez, M.D. Restoration Center in San Antonio, Texas has become the leading model for similar efforts. Founded in 2008 to help keep people in crisis out of jails and emergency rooms, the center today offers a variety of services from crisis intervention to residential detoxification and programs for those suffering from co-occurring mental health and substance use disorders, among others.

Rep. Miceli, legislature pass FY18 budget

BOSTON — Representative James Miceli, joined by his colleagues in the Legislature, voted Friday to pass the Fiscal Year 2018 budget conference committee report for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a critical step in finalizing the proposed spending for the state.

The legislative budgeting process culminated after several months of lengthy hearings, meetings, and drafts which resulted in a budget totaling $40.202 billion, up from $39.245 billion the year before. Taking into account the unforeseen revenue shortfall of the past year the budget was examined extremely closely, with many Representatives protecting valuable dollars for their communities.

"I am pleased with the results of this budget, both with respect to our communities of Wilmington and Tewksbury, as well as the Commonwealth as a whole," said Rep. Miceli upon its passing. "We worked hard to ensure that the budget was balanced and responsible, but still avoids cutting support for important local programs, such as the special needs summer program in Tewksbury known as Camp Pohelo. Also included in this year's budget is some language that directly assists Tewksbury State Hospital, one of our town's largest employers, by allowing it to continue its excellent service to our community by legally protecting the number of patient beds available, and ensuring there are no reductions from the previous years. I am also proud to share that this year's budget again includes assistance to the Tewksbury-based Into Action Recovery program, for the purchase and renovation of an opiate addiction treatment facility."

$200,000 is slated for repairs to the North Street Elementary School roof, which suffered extensive damage from previous winter storms and natural aging. The money will also go to use in repairing the schools heating and boiler system, allow the school to be fully utilized until longer-term solutions are implemented.

An additional $100,000 has been earmarked by Rep. Miceli for Into Action Recovery, the Tewksbury non-profit aimed at opening a cutting-edge recovery facility to fight opioid abuse and alcoholism. Thanks to yet another amendment filed, Camp Pohelo, the summer camp operated by the Tewksbury Public Schools known for assisting students with cognitive, social, and physical hurdles, will receive $25,000 for continued operations in the coming fiscal year.

The budget contains a number of additional sources of financial relief both for Tewksbury and Wilmington, as well as monies for unrestricted local government aid and education funding. In the area of education funding Tewksbury is set to receive $13,119,905 in educational assistance, up from $13,012,055 while Wilmington is scheduled to receive a total of $11,270,330 up from $10,978,730 the previous year.

Tewksbury's unrestricted local aid rose to $2,780,480 up from $2,676,112, and Wilmington rose to $2,484,126 up from $2,390,882. The Tewksbury Fire Department will also receive $90,000 in funding for reimbursement for services provided to the Tewksbury State Hospital.

Tips for taxpayers with summer jobs

By MARILYN SANFORD
Guest Column

Students and teenagers often get summer jobs. This is a great way to earn extra spending money or to save for later. Here are a few tax tips for taxpayers with a summer job:

- Withholding and Estimated Tax. Students and teenage employees normally have taxes withheld from their paychecks by their employer. Some workers are considered self-employed and may be responsible for paying taxes directly to the IRS. One way to do that is by making estimated tax payments during the year.

- New Employees. When a person gets a new job, they need to fill out a Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. Employers use this form to calculate how much federal income tax to withhold from the employee's pay. The IRS Withholding Calculator tool on IRS.gov can help a taxpayer fill out this form.

- Self-Employment. A taxpayer may perform certain types of jobs that might be considered self-employment. Money earned from self-employment is taxable. Self-employment work can be jobs like baby-sitting or lawn care. Keep good records on money received and expenses paid related to the work. The IRS may allow some, if not all, expenses associated with self-employment to be deducted. A tax deduction generally reduces the amount of taxes you pay.

- Tip Income. Employees should report their tip income. Keep a daily log to accurately report tips. Report tips of $20 or more received in cash in any single month to your employer.

- Payroll Taxes. Taxpayers may earn too little from their summer job to owe income tax. Employers usually must withhold Social Security and Medicare taxes from their pay. If a taxpayer is self-employed, then Social Security and Medicare taxes will be due and are generally paid by the taxpayer.

- Newspaper Carriers. Special rules apply to a newspaper carrier or a distributor. If a person meets certain conditions, then they are self-employed. If the taxpayer does not meet those conditions, and is under age 18, then he or she may be exempt from Social Security and Medicare taxes.

- ROTC Pay. If a taxpayer is in a ROTC program, active duty pay, such as pay for summer advanced camp, is taxable. Other allowances the taxpayer may receive may not be taxable. See IRS Publication 3 for details.

- Use IRS Free File. Taxpayers can prepare and e-file their federal income tax return for free using the IRS Free File available on IRS.gov. Some taxpayers may not earn enough money to have to file a federal tax return, but may want to if taxes were withheld. For example, a taxpayer may want to file a tax return because they would be eligible for a tax refund or a refundable credit. IRS Free File can help with these issues.

Renting out residential or vacation property

By MARILYN SANFORD
Guest Column

Summertime is a time of year when people rent out their property. In addition to the standard clean up and maintenance, owners need to be aware of the tax implications of residential and vacation home rentals.

Receiving money for the use of a dwelling also used as a taxpayer's personal residence generally requires reporting the rental income on a tax return. It also means certain expenses become deductible to reduce the total amount of rental income that's subject to tax.

- Dwelling Unit. This may be a house, an apartment, condominium, mobile home, boat, vacation home or similar property. It's possible to use more than one dwelling unit as a residence during the year.

- Used as a Home. The dwelling unit is considered to be used as a residence if the taxpayer uses it for personal purposes during the tax year for more than the greater of: 14 days or 10 percent of the total days rented to others at a fair rental price. Rental expenses cannot be more than the rent received.

- Personal Use. Personal use means use by the owner, owner's family, friends, other property owners and their families. Personal use includes anyone paying less than a fair rental price.

- Divide Expenses. Special rules generally apply to the rental of a home, apartment or other dwelling unit that is used by the taxpayer as a residence during the taxable year. Usually, rental income must be reported in full, and any expenses need to be divided between personal and business purposes. Special deduction limits apply.

- How to Report. Use Schedule E to report rental income and rental expenses on Supplemental Income and Loss. Use Schedule A to report deductible expenses for personal use as "Itemized Deductions." This includes such costs as mortgage interest, property taxes and casualty losses.

- Special Rules. If the dwelling unit is rented out fewer than 15 days during the year, none of the rental income is reportable and none of the rental expenses are deductible. To find out more about these rules, see IRS Publication 527, Residential Rental Property (Including Rental of Vacation Homes).

- Use IRS Free File. Renting a vacation home can be complicated and IRS Free File can make filing a tax return easier. IRS Free File is available until Oct. 16 for taxpayers earning $64,000 or less. Those earning more can use Free File Fillable Forms, an electronic version of IRS paper forms. Free File is available only through the IRS.gov website. You can get forms and publications on IRS.gov/forms at any time.

Woburn and Stoneham Elks merge into one

By JIM HAGGERTY

WOBURN — The Woburn Lodge of Elks B.P.O.E. #908 has been renamed for the first time in 113 years!

In the first six months of this year, serious negotiations had been held with the leadership and members of the Stoneham Lodge of Elks to have the Stoneham Elks come to Woburn. The Woburn Elks is now the Woburn/Stoneham Lodge of Elks #908.

Several formalities had to be met, including a formal vote by both lodges to merge the two entities. And, at the end of June, the final protocols were met with local and state authorities and the merger was complete.

The shift-over by Stoneham to East Woburn also means the selling of the Stoneham Lodge of Elks facility to accommodate a smooth transition.

In the forefront of the negotiations was Burlington resident Patricia "Patti" Robichaud, the Exalted Ruler for a second year with the Woburn Lodge of Elks.

Listings indicate the Stoneham Elks #2211 as being at 471 Main St. in Stoneham since 1961 with 5,182 square feet of space. A lack of membership and functions to support the location became a reality in recent years and a consolidation with another Lodge of Elks was the option.

Labels at the Woburn Lodge of Elks at 295 Washington St. are gradually being restructured.

Woburn Elks officials noted in recent days: "A motion was made and seconded at the June 27 meeting that we proceed with selling the Stoneham Lodge of Elks. We are in the process of cleaning out the Stoneham Lodge and will be looking into a commercial Realtor and a real estate lawyer shortly. Our new ASR, Harry See, was at our Board of Directors meeting that same night and has given us the guidelines for going ahead with the sale and what the Grand Lodge's requirements are."

Also, speaking of cleaning out a Lodge — a "thank you" went to John, Mike, Brian and Tim Mulrenan, Renee Kelly and Keith Wells for cleaning out the back room at the Wo-burn lodge to make room for the Stoneham furniture, etc. that they will be acquiring.

The Woburn Elks has been a long-standing civic and social club in Woburn, dating back to its founding in 1904.

In 1904, there were 37 charter members and meetings were held in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Main Street, a building later occupied by the Central Hardware Company.

This first permanent headquarters was located on Main Street, over what was then known as Callahan's Drug Store, just north of the Busy Bend. It had meeting facilities suitable at the time.

In 1909, due to increased membership, meetings were held in Mechanics Hall on Main Street, at the corner of Walnut Street.

By 1913, due to still further increase in membership, the lodge took title to the well-known property on Salem Street, although greatly enlarged to its present state. Formal dedication came on Jan. 16, 1914 — a large, three-story white building on the right at the start of Salem Street.

A Golden 100th Anniversary was held in 2004.

The current building in East Woburn was occupied in later September 1968 after many years on Salem Street near Woburn Center.

The functioning of the first major, joint event is also coming soon with Woburn/Stoneham & Tewksbury/Wilmington.

The entire formal process actually started at the Woburn Lodge of Elks meeting on March 28 to accept the merger after being voted on by Stoneham's lodge.

Some of the Stoneham members immediately began to take part in Woburn Elks activities and functions, according to the Woburn Elks leadership.

The Woburn Lodge in round numbers had approximately 750 members and Stoneham estimated around 200.

New Hampshire man killed in construction accident at Woburn Public Library

By STAFF REPORTS

WOBURN — A 32-year-old New Hampshire man was killed in what was apparently a tragic accident while working to build the addition to the Woburn Public Library, shortly before noon on Tuesday.

The identity of the man is not being released, but Woburn Police Chief Robert Ferullo confirmed the victim is from New Hampshire and is the father of two children.

The victim was reportedly working near the foundation of the library, located on Pleasant Street in Woburn Center, when he was apparently struck by a piece of rock that had broken free, according to a press release from the Middlesex District Attorney's office. He was pronounced dead at the scene and his body as taken away by the Office of the Chief Medical Examiner, which is performing an autopsy.

According to Ferullo, the investigation is being led by Woburn Police, State Police with the Middlesex D.A.'s office and the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA). The death "is not considered suspicious," according to the District Attorney's office.

The incident occurred at about 11:45 a.m. on Tuesday. The victim was reportedly an employee of Schnabel Foundation Co. with regional offices in Southboro, Schnabel was working as a subcontractor for E.L. French Excavating of North Billerica, which in turn is a subcontractor of Consigli Construction, the contractor for the $31.5 million library expansion and renovation project.

"At the time of the accident, Schnabel Foundation Co. was working on the underpinning of the library and the worker was working under their direction," W.L. French said in a statement. "Crews from W.L. French were working on parking lot renovations when the accident occurred, and W.L. French's machine was involved only in the rescue and recovery effort."

Officials from Consigli Construction and the city including Galvin, Ferullo, Fire Chief Stephen Adgate, and Building Commissioner Thomas Quinn gathered for a press conference at about 2 p.m. on Tuesday.

"It's very difficult for a project like this and a company like we have, there's a lot of camaraderie. People have to work closely together, and sometimes in dangerous situations. So, yes, it's a very sensitive subject for me personally, and especially for all those working alongside each other," said Matthew Consigli, president of Consigli Construction.

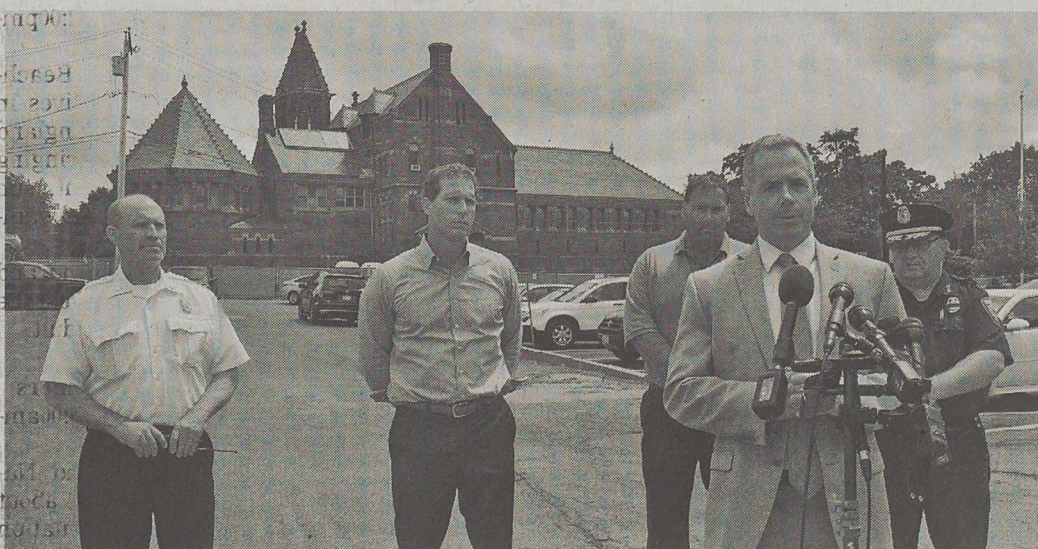

Galvin appeared along with members of the library's Board of Trustees and WPL Director Andrea Bunker last night at a meeting of the City Council's Infrastructure & Public Lands Committee to ask the committee to endorse a ground lease that is necessary for the expansion and renovation project.

Galvin said the construction worker's death appears to be a "tragic accident."

"We are investigating how it happened," said Galvin. "It's a sad day for the city. Our thoughts and prayers certainly go out to (the victim's) family."

The mayor said the project will be shut down at least through today. Ground was broken on the $31.5 million expansion and renovation project in late May and work is expected to conclude next fall.

Another look at the New England Aquarium

By PAIGE IMPINK
News Correspondent
paige@yourtowncrier.com

A recent visit to the New England Aquarium brought a new appreciation for the transformation the city and specifically the waterfront has undergone. The aquarium has a large and welcoming front plaza area, complete with seating areas perfect for an outdoor lunch or snack. A panorama of the water, boats, docks and the harbor islands create a bustling backdrop and there is a summery, energized atmosphere.

Atlantic harbor seals swim in a large tank at the entrance, and quickly once inside visitors are greeted by the penguins, 80 of them, occupying the entire lower level, hopping on rocks, swimming and squawking about. When we visited, aquarium staff were scrubbing the rocks, feeding smelts to the birds, and making observations and making notes. The exhibit is authentic in odor as well, as an aside.

The enormous tank, around which the four-story building is constructed, holds 200,000 gallons of sea water and has sharks, sea turtles, eels, fish and crustaceans. During our visit, the occupants were in the process of being fed by a team of three divers, a practice which ensures safety as well as an assurance that no one eats anyone else.

As visitors ascend the ramp encircling the tank, different fish can be viewed, and nooks and crannies of the simulated Caribbean coral structure reveal their hidden treasures.

The tank is open at the top and interpreters answer questions from the audience and explain aspects of the recreated ocean ecosystem. Exhibit tanks line the walls of the aquarium, showcasing species from New England waters and those from environments all around the globe. The aquarium has a renowned ocean exploration operation and works in conjunction with the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution on Cape Cod, among other agencies. The aquarium is focused on conservation and rehabilitation of ocean creatures and shies away from animal shows or performance-based exhibits.

There is a popular touch tank which encourages visitors to get close to rays and small epaulette sharks and makes sea creatures accessible. Throughout the aquarium there is a clear hope to convey a respect and understanding of our neighbors in the deep.

The aquarium offers whale watches, summer camps, and behind the scenes tours. A giant IMAX theatre provides an incredible series of movies about sharks, reefs, and other global ocean topics to enhance any visit.

Beyond the aquarium building, visitors can enjoy a walk along the Wharf District portion of the Rose Kennedy Greenway, right across the street. Take a stroll in either direction and experience fountains, hardscapes and landscape plantings that soften the environment and change the feel of being in the heart of downtown Boston.

Food trucks line the greenway and provide myriad options for lunch or a snack. Be sure you get your hand stamped so that you may return to the aquarium building if need be.

On another note, the aquarium is pricey so seek out passes and discount coupons to visit. Since parking is extremely expensive, it is suggested to either take the train in to the city or park further away and stroll over to the wharf.

A good two to three hours are sufficient to enjoy the aquarium, so plan to venture out and explore a bit of the city as part of your excursion to make a day of it. www.neaq.org

like we do with Mobile On The Run."

She also noted that she would be able to smell the fumes from the gas station from her home all the time, as the gas station is proposed to be 24/7.

Resident Sheri Bouchie mentioned the ever present concern that is traffic.

"How much traffic is this going to cause? The street is already narrow, so you're putting so much more traffic in an area that can barely handle the traffic that it has now. I think we need to know, specifically, how they're going to address all four directions of the intersection," she said.

The overall intersection is already rated at a D, and at times where traffic peaks, some of the movements are rated at an F.

Jamie Bornstein added another very present concern in the area, safety, as well as stating that there isn't a need for another gas station though the proposed design looks beautiful.

"The safety is a huge concern, with increased traffic flow to the site bringing unwelcome visitors that we don't want to invite to that area. It is a business area for some, but it's a large residential area for others, and it impacts the entire town. I would also argue maybe it would make sense to propose a gas station there, but we have nine already in a very small town, do we really need a tenth? I don't think so, I think we have plenty of options as resident of the town to go to nine other gas stations to fill up our cars."

The representatives from Global who were present at the meeting said that this would be the first gas station of its kind in the area.

"We have taken the traditional gas station down to the foundation and built it back up," said Global's Senior Vice President of Real Estate and Development Larry Strain. "We have engaged some of the best industry experts to date with some of the best designers to date to help us in creation of this new business model. This is more than just a traditional gas station, this was built with the consumers mind in place."

While the majority of the 20 or so residents who spoke at the meeting were against the proposal, two residents spoke in its favor.

"I don't have a problem with this project. This property is close to my heart, like I said I grew up there, my dad lived there for years. I think it's a great idea, I think it can't hurt the town, I think it will help the tax base for the town, and I think it's been well thought out and designed," said Paul Fiorenza.

"I think improvement is always a good thing," said Robin Macdonald, also noting that the competition it would create with the Mobile gas station across the street would not be a bad thing and neither would having another place to get a bite to eat.

"Everybody always comes down on development, sometimes it's not a bad thing."

The Planning Board also received 31 letters regarding the subject.

Planning Board Chair Michael Sorrentino mentioned a few times throughout the meeting that the Planning Board reviews the site plan for the project, not the business plan. Some other things that the board asked to see when Global appears before them again were different scenarios in regards to parking depending on different developments that may be in phase two and an independent review of the traffic plan.

The Planning Board hearing was ultimately continued to the Tuesday, Sept. 5 meeting.

huge difference," Mytych said. "All my neighbors, we're all on a rotation, so I had sprayed last week, my neighbor will request it and they're due for a spray this week."

Mytych said the most effective way to contact CMMCP for a spray is through their website.

"I always tell people to do it through the website because if you call, it's so busy that they never — you'll constantly get a busy signal," Mytych said. "Put a reminder on your phone to log on and request it every two weeks."

The website also features instructions for handling wetlands, tips for preventing mosquito bites and information about the different species of mosquitoes.

other critical piece to add to the collection. She moved here four years ago.

"Most of my time in Wilmington has really been family related activities," she said.

She plans to share photos to record moments with her children in Rotary Park. There is also a photo of her and her husband, Joseph, the day they moved into their house here.

"We look very tired so it captures the move-in experience."

Tierney is very enthusiastic to be a part of the Road Show. "To tell the story of this town is an honor," she explained. "To say this is who we are now is important for us to do as a people; we owe it to future generations."

Beyond just gathering the information, the day is meant to be a chance for people can come together and learn about the history of their town from each other. UMASS Boston's Carolyn Goldstein describes a very interactive and fun day.

"People may just want to come and watch," she said. "We display the photos there as we scan them."

So far, they have done the road show in 31 towns and collected more than 9,000 photographs and stories from across the state. The images and videos are indexed and incorporated into an online educational database. Interested residents should contact the Wilmington Town Library for more information on the Sept. 30 plan.

Wilmington Sons of Italy, Dominators Hot Rod Club seek people to show cars on August 26

tors Club for street racing and a love of old cars. Gustin reports that the group dwindled in the seventies, but then they revived in the eighties, and they now include about 11 or 12 people.

"It's a tight, clique community of these special interest vehicle owners. We still have a handful of original members, one that lives in Wilmington," he included.

It's Wilmington's John Brackett who wrote their book, titled Dominators Club, following the club in its early years. The Dominators put on two car shows every year, the first one in the early spring, called Reckless Blast, and the second toward the end of summer.

The best part about every show for Gustin is interacting with other car enthusiasts.

"The most exciting thing is getting there in the morning and seeing your friends show up. I just enjoy talking with the people that are into the hobby," he continued. "30 years ago, I was more interested in looking at the cars than enjoying the people. It's always fun to see people come back — people you know well — and it's good to meet new ones, too."

He stressed that the show is all about the camaraderie and not about the money.

Since it's free to spectators, the Dominators and the Sons of Italy are charging admission for those showing cars. They're also selling food, soft drinks, and raffle tickets during the event.

"To break even, that's a wonderful thing."

Any money made will be donated back to the Sons, Gustin said.

He made sure to specify the kind of car that the Dominators and the Sons of Italy are looking for.

"It's a show that primarily is pointed toward muscle cars, hot rods, classics, custom trucks — unique stuff you wouldn't see every day," he said. "We're not looking for a family to come in with a Toyota Camry."

It costs $10 to show a vehicle; call 781-929-0035 to sign up with Jim Gustin.

cross sections for Main Street at Salem Road and Salem Road at South Street will also be evaluated for installation of dedicated left-turn signals and will cost a little over $2.5 million dollars. These are considered phases II and III of the road improvements.

Phase I was the improvement to the road and rail overpass from the Lowell line south to Pike Street. Beyond that and scheduled for 2021, the portion of Route 38 from Chandler Street near St. Williams Church to Old Boston Road will be improved.

Kratman said that in addition to this work, "we are applying for Mass Works Grant for improvements to the intersection and a good stretch of Route 38 in front of the Wynn School."

According to Kratman, once completed, these projects will yield reconstruction of over 80 percent of Route 38.

Selectman Todd Johnson said, "Our local roadway improvement plan has developed into a series of sectional roadway improvements with state and regional planning agency cooperation to take place over a few years. I am pleased to see that there is a clear progression in place now to address Tewksbury's main thoroughfare."

12 year-old All-Star Baseball

Reading eliminates Wilmington on walk-off home run

By MEG KELLY
DAILY TIMES CHRONICLE

WILMINGTON -- With a chance to advance to the District 13 semifinals on the line, Thomas Fratto broke up a 0-0 stalemate by crushing a walk-off home run in the bottom of the sixth to send Reading past Wilmington, 1-0, in the 12-year-old championship baseball game played Monday evening at Rotary Park.

The win sends Reading to Acton on Wednesday where it will meet Pool A champion Acton-Boxboro at 5:30 p.m.

Fratto's blast, which cleared the right-field fence and landed amongst the trees, was the lone run in a tightly-contested pitcher's duel. Reading's Colin Ensminger tossed a complete game, allowing two hits and struck out eight. The defense was key in preventing any baserunners from reaching beyond second base. Wilmington's Dom Gabardi went pitch-to-pitch with Ensminger, limiting the Rockets to three hits and fanned seven.

"(Gabardi) was tough," said Reading coach Tom Fratto, who is also Thomas' dad. "He was hitting his spots and we were swinging and missing a lot. We told them we needed one big hit and we got it. That's what we told them the whole game. Our pitcher threw unbelievable tonight, probably his best start of his career."

After Ensminger sent Wilmington down in order to start the game, Jacob Carter led off Reading's first crack at the plate with a single to center, though that proved to be the Rockets' lone hit through the first four innings.

Wilmington was equally baffled at the plate, as Ensminger, a tall righthander, tossed a no-hitter through the first three innings.

"He was mixing it up," said Fratto on Ensminger. "He was throwing strikes, didn't walk many, and he had great defense behind him. We got a couple kids out on the bases, force plays that kept them a base behind which was big for us."

Reading's defense kept Wilmington at bay in the top of the fourth. With a runner in first and one away, Carter backhanded a grounder heading through the short-stop hole and threw to Ben Wright at second for a key force out.

On the next at-bat, Wilmington broke up Ensminger's no-hitter with a line drive to the left-center gap. As the lead runner broke for third, outfielder Joseph Champa tossed a perfect relay throw to Carter who then threw to Ben McGilvray at third to nail the runner in time.

Following four blank innings at the plate, Tad Giardina opened the bottom of the fifth with an infield single. Wright followed with a perfectly placed bunt down the third base line, and the ensuing throw tipped off the first baseman's glove as Giardina reached third on heads-up baserunning.

However, Reading's offensive momentum came to a screeching halt as the next three batters struck out swinging.

Wilmington coach Dan Ardito said this game "was a tough one for sure. Both pitchers were outstanding."

Wilmington completed district play with a 3-2 record. Team members include: Matt Ardito, Dillon Bloom, Shane Costello, Michael Daniels, Jack Farrell, Dom Gabardi, Marcello Misuraca, Dan Passerini, Johnny Rhind, Jacob Roque, Patrick Stokes, Matt Vinal, and Owen White.

Joe Quilty contributed to this report; Additional coverage of the 12-year-olds on SP2W.

Wilmington's 11-year-old All-Stars

Wilmington's 13-year-old Pony League team won its second game of the season with a 6-3 win over Lowell last Friday night at the Wilmington Middle School.

Wilmington scored early with a run in the bottom of the first inning. Joey Dynan walked and was moved over on a ground out by Aidan O'Connell. He then hustled to score on a passed ball to give Wilmington a 1-0 lead.

Wilmington then rode the pitching arm of Dynan the rest of the way. He went six strong innings giving up only one hit. The defense made plays behind him with O'Connell, Nick Benson, and Darrin Hamilton making nice plays in the field to keep runners off base. A couple Lowell players reached base on walks, but were stranded. Wilmington escaped the third inning after the leadoff batter reached with a walk, the next batter hit a shot up the middle. Dynan stabbed it and threw to O'Connell at second who threw to Ryan Santini at 1st base to complete the double play.

Wilmington got some breathing room in the bottom of the third inning. They scored three runs on consecutive singles by Ben McEwen, Dynan, and O'Connell and an RBI groundout by Garrett Moretto.

Danny McConologue came in to pitch the seventh inning for Wilmington for the save.

12-year-olds finish 3-2 in Pool Play

Before losing to Reading on Monday night ending their all-star season, the Wilmington 12-year-old all-star baseball team had three earlier 'Pool Games' this past week including falling to North Reading, 4-3, which came after beating Wakefield 18-11 and Stoneham 14-11.

NR 4, WILMINGTON 3

The Wildcats' bats, which had scored 39 runs in three games, were silenced by North Reading pitching. Wilmington pitching was impressive with Shane Costello, Dom Gabardi and Jacob Roque combining to strike out nine batters and walking two.

Wilmington took an early 2-0 lead after Marcello

Misuraca led off the second inning with a single and scored on a Johnny Rhind two-run home run.

In the third inning, Gabardi led off with a single and went to third on a Matt Vinal double. Patrick Stokes singled in Gabardi to bring Wilmington's lead to 3-0.

North Reading scored three runs in the bottom of the fourth thanks to two home runs. The score remained tied at three until the bottom of the sixth in which North Reading scored the winning run.

Also playing well for Wilmington were Matt Ardito, Michael Daniels, Dillon Bloom, Owen White, and Dan Passerini.

WILMINGTON 18, WAKEFIELD 11

The Wildcats were powered by five home runs, three coming off the bat of Dom Gabardi. Jacob Roque started the scoring for Wilmington with a leadoff home run. Wakefield would respond with four runs of their own in the bottom of the first to take a 4-1 lead over Wilmington.

Dillon Bloom led off the top of the second with a walk and scored after singles by Owen White and Roque. Gabardi then hit his first home run, a three-run shot giving Wilmington the lead 5-4.

Wakefield responded with seven runs in the bottom of the second giving them an 11-5 lead.

Wilmington scored single runs in each of the third and fourth innings, courtesy of solo home runs by Marcello Misuraca and Gabardi.

Michael Daniels led off the top of the fifth with a walk followed by a fielder's choice by Johnny Rhind. Roque then doubled scoring Rhind. After a Matt Ardito single, Gabardi tied things up with another three-run home run. Matt Vinal followed with a walk, and then Patrick Stokes was hit by a pitch. Misuraca and Daniels followed with singles giving Wilmington the lead for good at 14-11.

Wilmington would score four more runs in the top of the sixth with singles from Ardito, Gabardi, Stokes, Misuraca, Rhind and Dan Passerini.

Shane Costello performed well on defense. Stokes picked up the victory on the mound, pitching three innings of relief.

WILMINGTON 14, STONEHAM 11

Stoneham scored two runs in the top of the first inning, however the damage was minimized thanks to a double play turned by Matt Vinal at third base to end the inning.

Wilmington matched those two runs in the bottom of the first with Jacob Roque led off with a walk followed by Dom Gabardi hitting a single to center. Both players scored on a single by Vinal on the third base side.

Johnny Rhind solo home run in the bottom of the second to take the lead for Wilmington. Both teams traded runs in the third inning. Matt Ardito led off with a single and went to second on a wild pitch. Gabardi followed by hitting another single to score Ardito.

Stoneham scored three runs in the top of the fourth to take a 6-4 lead. It remained that way into the fifth inning when Stoneham was threatening with runners on first and second with two outs. Trying to score on a single to center, the Stoneham runner was thrown out by Ardito to the Wildcats catcher Marcello Misuraca to end the inning.

Wilmington sent 15 batters to the plate in the bottom of the fifth inning. Gabardi and Vinal each had walks to start the inning, followed by a Patrick Stokes single to loading the bases. Misuraca came to the plate and hit a single to cut the deficit within one. Shane Costello then stepped to the plate a blasted a grand slam, scoring Vinal, Misuraca and Owen White to give Wilmington the 9-6 lead that they would not relinquish.

Four more consecutive singles by Dillon Bloom, Dan Passerini, Roque and Ardito scored two more runs. Gabardi followed by hitting a three-run shot over the right-center field fence bringing the score to 14-6. Misuraca and Michael Daniels kept the offensive outburst going with singles and Rhind was hit by a pitch loading the bases again. However, Stoneham recorded the last out in the fifth on a ground out to second base.

Stoneham would not go away quietly as they scored five runs in the top of the sixth. Costello came in to record the final out and the save for the 14-11 victory.

Michael Daniels had a strong defensive presence as well.

"This was a pretty exciting game again and hope we can continue later this week," said Coach Dan Ardito.

Gabardi, Stokes and Costello did a great job pitching for Wildcats striking out seven through six innings.

Northeast Baseball team defeats Tyngsboro, jumps over .500 mark

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

WILMINGTON -- The Wilmington Northeast baseball team has spent most of the summer season thus far on the fringe of .500, crossing back and forth with an alternating win-loss pattern. On Monday night, they returned to the winning side, improving to 5-4, with a 9-5 defeat of a stubborn Tyngsboro squad. Combining timely hitting and aggressive baserunning, Wilmington, which most recently suffered a 4-0 shutout loss to Billerica, scored in all but two innings including three runs each in the second and sixth.

At the top of the order, Peter Marino, Ben Maynard, and Tom Worob accounted for half of the eight Wilmington hits but it was defense, once again, that returned the squad to the win column according to Coach Jim Boyle.

"If I look at our losses, we didn't play defense," he said. "In the loss to Tewksbury, for example, we didn't pitch or play defense very well. Today, we were more consistent and relatively error-free. The only thing that hurt us today was the Bermuda Triangle, where we gave up a number of hits."

Boyle was referring to a segment of the field, typically behind the first and third bases, where the Tyngsboro hitters seemed very adept at dropping balls out of the reach of infielders.

Tyngsboro, which came in on four straight losses, including a 6-3 defeat at the hands of this same Wilmington team at the end of June, actually took a 1-0 lead in the opening frame. With Jacob Carney at second, starting pitcher Phil Sutherland, Jr. helped himself by delivering the base runner with a 2-out single to left.

Wilmington responded in their half of the first, scoring a pair to capture the lead. Tom Worob worked Sutherland for a walk and was soon brought home off Jarred Acoin's double, one of two Wilmington extra base hits on the day. Chris Stokes added an rbi-single, plating Acoin for a 2-1 lead.

Wilmington displayed great patience at the plate in the second inning. They capitalized on a struggling Sutherland, who dug a hole by loading the bases on three consecutive walks. Marino's one-out double to deep right scored a pair. Wilmington later made it 5-1 when Mike Fiorenza tagged and scored on a sacrifice fly.

"We hit well tonight but sometimes, we have problems because our lineup is sporadic," explained Boyle. "From the Wilmington High School team, we have five varsity players and six from the junior varsity. It's a good mix of kids but we're not always this consistent at the plate."

While Wilmington's hurler Ben Maynard went the distance, he would probably rather forget the third inning when Tyngsboro got to him for four consecutive two-out base hits and a pair of runs to close the deficit to 5-3.

But the rally proved short-lived. In the bottom of the fifth, Tyngsboro subbed Jim Darocha and Wilmington hitters immediately jumped on the knuckleballer for back-to-back base hits and ultimately, another run scored. They added three more in the sixth as a tiring Tyngsboro defense simply ran out of steam.

Tyngsboro added a pair of runs on three hits in the seventh but it was too little, too late.

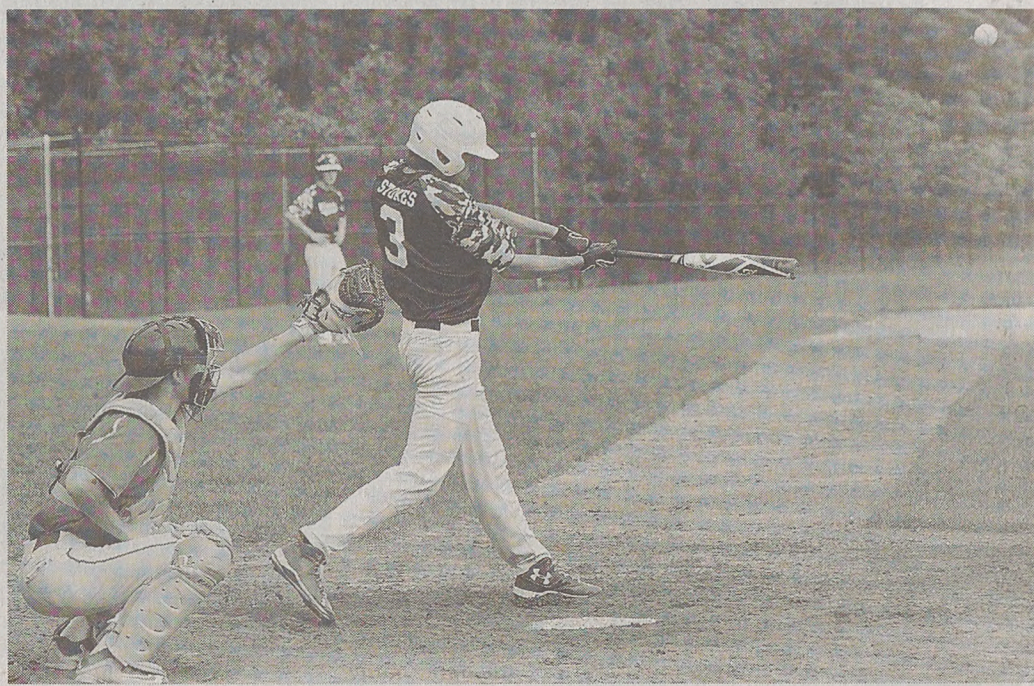

"We've had some hard luck this summer with a lack of quality pitching," said Tyngsboro coach Phil Sutherland, Sr. who has a tough road ahead with games against Billerica, North Reading, and Tewksbury. "A couple of my other pitchers are away on vacation. That's how it is in this league. If we could get some pitching to go with some of our decent hitting, we might win a few."

Wilmington doesn't have it any easier down the stretch.

"We have Westford tomorrow and then Tewksbury which is a challenge game for these kids," said Boyle. "We didn't play well against them the first time around. And then we have North Reading. Hopefully, we'll have a 3-0 run and finish up second place in the division."

James is the King of the Hill

By DAN ZIMMERMAN
Sports Correspondent

WILMINGTON — After the first couple of innings were in the books during Sunday night's Lou Tompkins All-Star baseball matchup between Wilmington and Melrose, it became obvious that James Hill was on his game and wouldn't need a lot of run support to get the job done.

Hill struck out five of the first ten batters he faced in those early innings, negating a number of basehits and stranding several in scoring position. The Wilmington ace threw yet another complete game, amassing 14 total strikeouts on the way to a 3-1 defeat of visiting Melrose.

With the loss, Melrose evened at 4-4 while Wilmington improved to 6-2 as the summer season nears its midpoint.

"Despite his hamstring injury earlier this summer, James has delivered every time he has taken the mound," said Coach Rick Hill, who is also James' father. "In the past two games alone, he has struck out twenty-three batters. We really couldn't ask for more from him."

The game was scoreless until the top of the third when Hill sandwiched a pair of walks to Nick Cordeau and Shane Correale around a strike-out. Bill Denning came up in the clean-up spot and drove in Corday for a 1-0 Melrose advantage. It was one of only four basehits yielded by the stingy hurler. Melrose clung to the one run lead until the bottom of the sixth inning when Wilmington's Edmund DeAngelis led off with a single and later, stole second. A Melrose throwing error allowed Daniel Stein to reach and DeAngelis to score and tie it. Fearing his potent bat, Daniel Cronin was intentionally walked. Hill came up next and helped himself with an RBI-basehit, scoring Stein to forge ahead, 2-1. Another Melrose throwing error, this by pitcher Rob Mele in an attempt to erase Hill at second, resulted in Cronin scampering home for the third Wilmington run. It was all they would need.

While he didn't figure in the scoring, Brian Moran contributed with a pair of hits for Wilmington.

"We're doing very well so far and I'm pleased with the results," said Hill, who next hosts a top-notch North End club on Saturday. "Both of our losses were by only one run. But we have a tough stretch ahead due to some makeup games."

During the Wilmington Major League Playoff Championship game held several weeks ago, Yankees first baseman, Ella Cedrone is about to apply the tag.

LaClair is currently a member of the U12 New England Nor'Easters team.

Over 460 players tried out for the Northeast Region Team including players from ME, MA, NH, NJ, NY, PA, RI, and VT. These players competed for 30 total roster spots forming two elite level teams to play teams representing the other nine regional sites in the USA. A total of 24 teams and the top 360 players in the country will have the opportunity to wear the USA Softball Jersey at this elite level event.

The USA Softball All-American Games is a prestigious tournament hosted at the USA Softball Hall of Fame Stadium in Oklahoma City. It provides National exposure to elite athletes in the 12U age division and has been specifically designed to identify and highlight the best athletes from across the country. Designation to the USA Softball All-American team is the highest honor a player can receive and instantly brands a player as one of the top athletes in the United States.

USA Softball, the National Governing Body of Softball in the United States, announced the creation of the USA Softball All-American Games, a prestigious tournament to be held at the ASA Hall of Fame Complex - OGE Energy Field - INTEGRIS Field August 18-20, 2017. "We are excited to give these athletes the opportunity to play at the ASA Hall of Fame Complex representing USA Softball."

With teams selected from the 10 USA Softball Regions, a total of 24 teams from across the U.S. will compete in the USA Softball All-American games. Each region can select up to two teams to represent their region at the USA Softball All-American Games and each team will consist of 15 athletes and two coaches.

Athletes must be on a USA Softball registered team for the 2017 season and must be age eligible for the 12-under JO division. Each region is responsible for the selection process for their teams, and players must commit and be registered no later than July 1.

Teams competing in the USA Softball All-American Games will be invited to participate in an exposure camp to highlight their skills. The USA Softball All-American Games will also have an Opening Ceremony, free live streaming and live stats through USASoftball.com and a tournament "swag" bag, which will include their USA Softball All-American jerseys and other official USA Softball and sponsor merchandise.

"What a great opportunity for 12-under female athletes across the country to be identified by members of USA Softball's local associations," said Director of Championships Chris Sebrén. "To have the opportunity to come together as individuals and compete as regional teams in this inaugural All-American Games will be such a great experience for them."

"These select individuals will join some of the best athletes across the world who will be competing in Oklahoma City this year as we host the NCAA Women's College World Series (WCWS) and the World Cup of Softball. What a great way for USA Softball to finish off our fast pitch season in Oklahoma City with the inaugural All-American Games."

Hockey fundraiser to be held on July 22

The 2017 All Day Power Play annual fundraising hockey event to benefit the Nashua Children's Home in Nashua, New Hampshire will take place on July 22nd at the Conway Arena in Nashua, NH.

Players of all levels are asked to register, fundraise and then hit the ice for 24 hours of hockey from 9 am to 9 am the following day - and yes there are some breaks.

Games are played in pickup format with each session starting with all the sticks thrown in the middle. Someone sorts them out and you flip your jersey to red or white depending which side your stick is on and off you go.

Nashua Children's Home provides care and stability to boys and girls unable to remain with their families, special education services for students who have not been successful in public school settings, and supportive housing for youth that have "aged-out" of care.

The first event was in 2008 as an idea to raise money for Nashua Children's Home and the creator Bill Dwyer (who is now the current state treasurer) had no idea if it would even work.

Since that first year, over 60 skaters signed up and raised over $20,000. This year will be the 10th annual event and we have raised over $250,000 over the life of the event.

One hundred percent of the money raised goes directly to NCH and helps them cover the many shortfalls in their funding allowing kids to do things kids do like go to summer camp, plays sports, ride a bike and more. It also helps to fund the transitional living program which helps those aging out of care to transition into "the real world" allowing them to have affordable rent and still continue counseling.

Public Notices

Every day throughout the United States newspapers publish thousands of public notices about events, conditions or actions that affect countless individuals, families, neighborhoods and businesses. Public notices cover many topics including guardianships, conservatorships and protective orders, probating wills, business matters, liquor licensing, public auctions and sales, estates, zoning, public meetings, bids to sell goods and services to the government, auctions to dispose of surplus government equipment, local government finances and state and local elections. The public notice is a fundamental component of our system of representative democracy, which depends upon the participation of educated, responsible citizens.
